

Kleoh and her friend were at the beach while Kleoh noticed that there was a sparkly blue bottle half way buried in the sand. Kleoh, interested, walk over to pick it up.

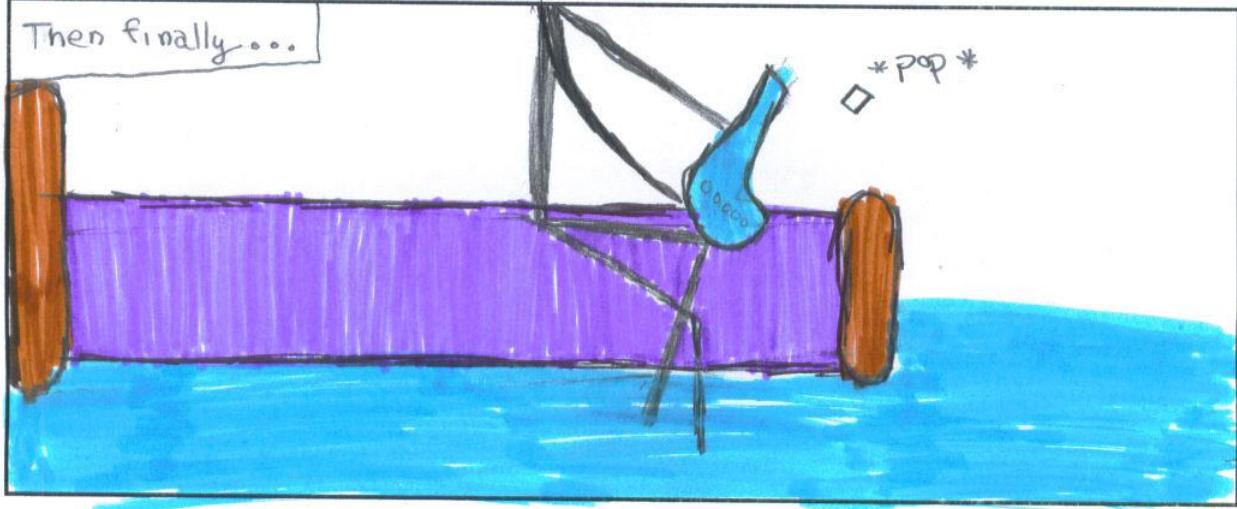

Kleoh decided that she would tell her friend she had to go home and she would open the bottle in her room.

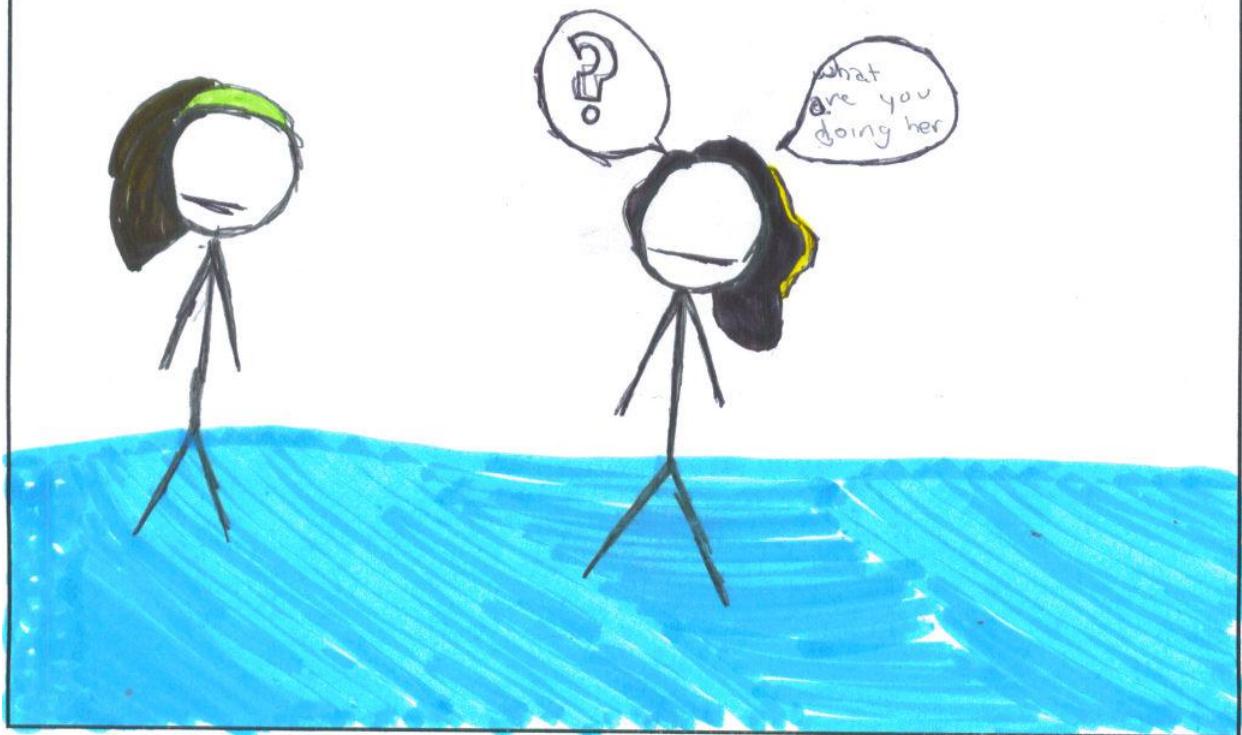

When Kleoh got home she tried to open the bottle but it wouldn't budge.

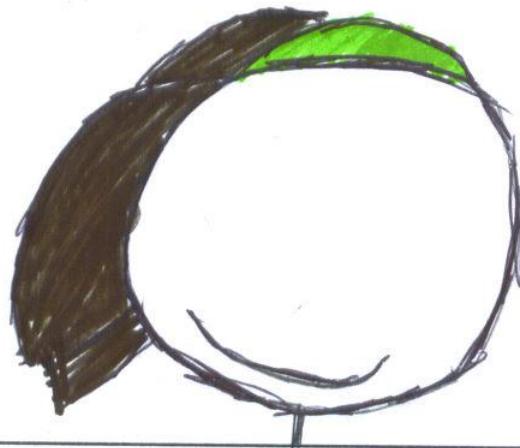

Then finally...

cleared a girl about a couple years older than Kleon was standing in the middle of the room.
